

GOVERNMENT OF HARYANA

NOTIFICATION

Subject:- Mandatory Use of solar water heating system in the state of Haryana.

I would like to inform you that Haryana Government vide Notification No.22/52/2005-06 Dated 29-07-2005 has made it mandatory to use solar water Heating System (SWHS) in all industries where hot water is required for processing, Hospitals & Nursing Homes including Government Hospitals, Hotels, Motels, Canteens, Housing Complexes set up by group Housing Societies/Housing Boards & all Residential Buildings (plot size 500 sq. yards & above) falling within Municipal Committees / Corporations and HUDA sectors, All Government Buildings, Residential schools, Educational and training institutes, Tourism Complexes And Universities Etc. in the state.

Solar water system can heat water up to 80 degree centigrade. Their payback period is very attractive and it recovers their cost in 2-4 years, How ever, life of the system is more than 15 years. Solar water Heating system has negligible running and maintenance cost.

Soft loan at 2 to 5% for available for installation of SWHS in the various banks.100% depreciation benefit is available to institutional & industrial / commercial users. Haryana state Govt. is the first state in North India to provide rebate on electricity bill @ Rs.100/-, 200/- & 300/- pm to the domestic users of SWHS of capacity 100,200 and 300 LPD respectively for a period of three years from the date installation of the systems with immediate effects.

Further this notification has been issued in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 18 of the Energy Conservation Act 2001.As penal provision are already in effect, I feel that it is my duty to aware you. Any technical guidance required will be provided by this office.

I would appreciate your active cooperation in promoting the use of Solar water Heating Systems in your unit. Never the less, Benefit- Cost ratio is substantially higher in case of Solar Water Heating Systems as compared to other conventional sources.

Thanking you.

Yours
